RECORD HOLDER OF JUNCTIONERS WILL MAKE INITIAL BOW

Copper Queen Team, With "Dad" Deardorff, Will Go Against Record Holders of 16 Straight Games.

The far famed Gregory, winner of sixteen straight games in Oklahoma will make his initial bow to the Warren district ball fans from the mound, representing the Junction team today when he will try to hold his reputation against "Dad" Deardorff and the Copper Queen heavy hitters.

The Copper Queen team has been experiencing disappointments because they lacked pitchers in most of their games but they now claim that they are in the running for "Dad" Deardorff has recovered his arm and is expected to spring the surprise of the season in today's battle. However the Junctioners are backing their new record holder to the finish and promise to die gamely if die they must.

The game will start at 2:30 prompt and their game will be the only game of the day as the C. & A. tossers have decided to make Sunday a day of rest.

WINSOME LASS IS NEW LEADING WOMAN TO BE SEEN AT THE ORPHEUM

"Other People's Money," a Mutual Star Masterpiece, featuring Miss Gladys Hulette, is one of the best releases, so far shown, of the Mutual company, at the Orpheum. It will again be on the program this evening at the downtown playhouse.

The personality of Miss Hulette, alone, would carry many a far weaker play to a successful conclusion. She is new to many picture fans but that does not detract from her winsomeness nor her ability to make the role one to stand out. The picture, itself, is far above the average from the standpoint of photography, interest and the mechanical features. In addition a Pathe Bi-Weekly is also on the program.

Again, during the past week, the Orpheum and Royal have hit a tremendous clip in showing extra good pictures to a discriminating Bisbee public. The features, including Triangle, Paramount, Mutual Star, Fox, Metro and V. L. S. E., are offering some of the greatest plays ever presented to any public.

The following's week bookings promise even better things to come:

At the Orpheum for the week are: Monday and Tuesday, Douglas Fairbanks in "The Habit of Happiness," a Triangle, and Harry McCort, in "His Last Laugh," a Keystone comedy. Wednesday, Harold Lockwood and May Allison in "The Comeback," a Metro feature. Thursday and Friday, Jane Gray, in "The Wolf" and Friday Arbuckle in "His Wife's Mistake," another Keystone. Saturday and Sunday will see Helen Holmes in the sequel to "Whispering Smith," namely "Medicine Head," a Mutual Star production. At the Royal: Monday, Joseph Kilgour in "The Writing on the Wall," a Vitaphone (Blue Ribbon) feature. Tuesday and Wednesday, Blanche Sweet in "The Sowers," a Paramount picture. Thursday and Friday, Fannie Ward in "For the Defense," another Paramount, and Saturday and Sunday, Miss Jose Collins in "A Woman's Honor."

DON LUIS RESIDENTS WRATHY OVER TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS IN TOWN

People of Suburb Declare Safety of Children Is Jeopardized by Reckless Driving Through Community.

More complaint and of a character that is liable to result in some definite action being taken, with or without the aid of the county officials, is coming from Don Luis regarding the willful violations of the traffic laws through that town.

The people of Don Luis, some time ago, complained to the board of supervisors of the traffic conditions. At that time the board promised to have signs made and put through the town warning the traffic. So far this has not been accomplished, according to the people living there. The people of the community declare that the presence of an officer is nearly essential for the protection of life and limb from reckless drivers.

Only yesterday some motorist, making from thirty-five to fifty miles an hour through Don Luis, ran over and killed a child belonging to Wm. Gallagher, who lives within a short distance of the school building. Gallagher points out that it might just as well have been a small child to meet with the accident.

"The people of Don Luis are up in arms," declared another resident of the town a couple of days ago. "It would appear that we are perfectly helpless. We try to get numbers and prosecute for violations of the speed laws but most of us have other work which must be attended to. It would appear only just that the county should give us some protection along this line."

"The automobile traffic through Don Luis is increasing all the time. Moreover, it seems that, once the city limits of Bisbee and past Lowell, the drivers open their mufflers and try to make up for the time lost in Bisbee and Lowell. This condition is very dangerous. When our school opens the danger will be multiplied and something must be done to alleviate it."

"HYPOCRISY" FULL OF FORCEFUL SLAMS

Fox Feature, with Virginia Pearson, Is Great Lesson in Everyday Life.

Society comes in for its share of "muck raking" in the William Fox photoplay, "Hypocrisy," which plays again today at the Royal and starring Virginia Pearson, that noted stage and screen southern beauty. Her part is that of a young society woman, through whose fondness for gambling falls into the pitfalls of so-called high society.

She has two lovers, parts taken by Alfred Swenson and John Webb Dillon, one of whom she marries, only to continue to receive attentions from the other. The rejected lover naturally develops into a villain, and the society woman's love of bridge lets her fall into his hands through a gambling debt.

But she is saved in good time by her husband and the realization in her own conscience of the shame, bluffs and hypocrisies of society. The picture plays its many situations, only found in Fox films, and altogether is a drama of sound moral and artistic merit. The Fox features, hereafter, will be shown for the uniform price of 10 and 15 cents.
